

A new ending of “The BFG”

A Harmonious World of Giants and People

When BFG and Sophie told the Queen of England the truth, she was shocked and worried. “Erm... please don’t kill the giants. I will negotiate with them by asking them to promise not to eat humans anymore,” said BFG. Then, the Queen sent some officers to go with them.

BFG guided the English soldiers to enter the Giant Country. Once the giants saw Sophie and BFG, all of them were mad. “How come you are here? You’ve betrayed us!” The giants shouted. “I have already talked to the Queen of England and she will offer unlimited food resources for you all if you don’t hurt other humans,” said the BGF.

After a few minutes of discussion, the giants agreed with the proposal. They had to move to England where everyone lived happily and peacefully.
