

The Champion Goes to Sophie and BFG

BFG is one of the best adventure films. It is the most touching films I have ever seen before. This film is so incredibly good that it is a must-see movie.

The story starts with a girl called Sophie, who befriends with a benevolent giant, who takes her to a Giant country. They want to stop the man-eating giants from invading the human world. They set up a plan and try to convince Queen Elizabeth to help them get rid of all bad giants once and for all. Do you think they can stop all the bad giants from eating humans? Let's watch the movie and get the answer by yourself.

This film is meaningful and thought-provoking. It teaches us many things, for example, don't judge people by their appearance. Since BFG is absolutely ginormous and his ears are as big as truck wheels. He looks scary, but he is the gentlest or kindest character in the whole film. Besides, the film is insightful that it teaches us to give people a chance. The friendship between Sophie and BFG is super-rewarding, reminding us to give people a chance.

Moreover, there are several aspects of the film which I like, especially the amazing characters and the fantastic CG effects. The Giants look real and hilarious. The beautifully drawn animation and the catchy soundtrack are wonderful and intriguing.

I highly recommend this film. The character is comical, and the plot is imaginative, which all surely please a large audience. You must watch this film if you still haven't done so. I guarantee that you will give it the thumbs up after enjoying this film!
