Welcome to my blog! I'm Fiona. Have you ever been to Tokyo before? It's a modern busy city which is an icon of the bustling street with technology. I went there with my family last month. Now, let me take you to Tokyo to experience my stunning trip with my family last month!

Tokyo is renowned for ancient temples, mouth-watering food and skyscrapers. During the first day, I went to Sensoji temple, which is one of the most iconic buildings. There's a nostalgic atmosphere. When I approached it, I was amazed by the Kaminarimon which is the symbol of Asakusa at the first sight. It's extremely spectacular! I saw some greatest artworks inside the temple. Don't miss this fascinating temple!

Look how pretty is it!

The exciting dining experience is also one of the reasons that people flock to Tokyo. If you are choosing between eating Donburi or Tempura, then why don't you have both of them? A 'tendon' was a perfect choice for you. The golden crispy tempura was laid on the fresh steamed rice. It was drizzled with a Tentsuya dipping sauce. The combination of crunchy Tempura and the refreshing sauce is fabulous. It's very scrumptious and I had a nosh-up! You can find this in most restaurants of Tokyo.

The tendon is delicious!

Shopping is a highlight in Tokyo because you can practically buy whatever you want. In Nakamise Dori, you can see a lot of shops selling a wide variety of something full of Japanese style. It's the best place to buy souvenirs for your family!

The trip of Tokyo was so fantastic and memorable that I can't wait to travel to another place in Japan — remember to share with me your incredible travelling experience in the comment box!

That's what I buy in Nakamise Dori.
