

‘What do you mean?’ —Emily by Hebe Wong

What do you think when someone always asks, ‘What do you mean?’ Is she suspicious? Or curious? Let me introduce her to you!

Emily is a girl at puberty and has an attractive appearance. She has a pair of big and bright eyes like stars, rosy lips and pretty white teeth. She is about 154cm tall and slim. She gives me a clean and fresh feeling.

In fact, to her, ‘What do you mean?’ is just a joke after you said something ambiguous. And Emily is a circumspect girl. She always reminds me of something important, such as this English homework which I have put aside.

Playing musical instruments is Emily’s hobby and she is so good at it. Why? Because she has attained level seven of the piano! Moreover, she is interested in badminton, guitar and violin. She thinks everyone should pursue their dreams, no matter how big or small, step by step, toward their dreams.

What a perfect girl! I am honored to know her. I hope we can be good friends forever. How about you? Do you want to meet her after my introduction! You may come to class 1B at recess and see if you’re lucky enough to bump into her!
