

A new ending for the BFG

Peaceful Time

"Let's get them!" exclaimed Mr. Tibbs. They were going to catch all the giants. After a while, they arrived at Giant Country. The Fleshlumpeater, Bonecruncher, Manhugger, Childchewer, and Meatdripper were all there. "Haha! Time for revenge!" rejoiced Sophie. "Bang!" The Catching Net was released. "Wait!" yelled a mysterious voice...

"PLEASE! Forgive us..." sobbed the Fleshlumpeater. Everyone stopped and listened to their plea. "We understand that eating humans is bad, and we regret everything we did. Please give us a chance to live peacefully with humans!" begged the giants.

"Wow..." people were shocked and were about to reject their request until Sophie raised her hand and voiced her opinion. "I think we should give them a chance rather than being merciless." After some silence, the Queen added, "Yes! Why don't we give them a chance? Also, anything for my darling."

Because of the forgiveness, the giants were touched and changed their minds. They started to learn more about human beings, how to respect them, and how to speak to them with manners. Just after a month, they had already become "king-sized" humans and a loving species. "Manhugger, how was your day?" asked a human who walked behind Manhugger, showing that living with giants wasn't a bad idea at all. In the castle, the BFG and Sophie giggled. "Isn't this the happiest ending you have never ever dare to imagine, BFG?" They had never thought that giants could live peacefully with humans.
