An Awful Day

Sunny

Dear Diary,

Buzz! Buzz! Buzz! The sound of bees was driving me crazy!

It is an awful and painful experience to me and my friend, Ben. It happened when we went on a picnic in the countryside yesterday.

Ben and I headed to a meadow. We were amazed by the beautiful sunbeam and the sweet of flowers. We took out a picnic mat and put a lot of food on it. We enjoyed sharing the delicious food. Ben got closer to a towering tree. He caught sight of a bird's nest. Out of curiosity, he climbed up the tree to catch the birds. Unfortunately, there was a bee hive on the tree. Some bees buzzed around us. We shook in terror and climbed down the tree immediately.

Luckily, an idea sprang to my mind. I used a lighter to drive the bees away because bees were afraid of fire. Then we grabbed the chance to run away. Being stung by bees was a very painful experience for us.

In the end, our noses became red and swollen. We looked like monkeys. I was afraid to be scolded by my mother. I covered my nose all day. Finally, my mother brought me to see the doctor.
