

The most important things in life

Good morning everyone,

What does our life consist of? Well, as a student, we attend lessons, do our homework and prepare for the exam. These 3 things just cycle on and on, never-ending. As important as studying is, we should also keep in mind that we are not only students, but humans. Therefore, we should all remember that, studying is only a part of our life, and even we are just students, living is much more than just studying.

Our hobbies also form a major part of our life. Hobbies aren't just what we spend our spare time on, but what we strive for to be good at, what we want to master, what make us happy. They are a palate, full of joyful colours, that can turn our grey-scaled studying life into a rose-coloured one. And this is why we should not just prioritize studying, but other things as well, the ones that can make us happy.

Aside from our hobby, our friends also contribute to who we are as a person and are a significant part of our life. Other than doing various activities with us, they decorate our lives with sparks. With friends, we share our thoughts and experiences, we start think about others in mind, and we become a better person. As one of the sources of aspirations, our friends are also one of our priorities in life.

We forget thousands of things every day, but I sincerely hope that my message today is not one of them. Always treasure your hobbies and friends, as they are what shape you as a person, and what shine brightness and radiate warmth as blue birds in our lives, delivering a message. The world will be a better place tomorrow.

Thank you.
